ASSESSMENT OF PATIENT HEALTH QUESTIONNAIRE

INTRODUCTION

The PHQ, a nine-item version to assess symptoms of depression, The PHQ were combined to create the PHQ-somatic, anxiety, depressive symptoms (PHQ-SADS) and includes questions regarding panic attacks. Though less commonly used, there are also brief versions of the PHQ-9. Although these tests were originally designed as self-report inventories they can also be administered by trained health care practitioners.

Depression is a common illness worldwide, with more than 350 million people affected

Missed diagnosis

sometimes referred to as failure to diagnose or delayed diagnosis, occurs when a doctor fails to identify a medical condition at the time they're presented with it.
